Question from shareholders

Shareholder : Why selling expenses keep much higher?

Company : Since sale volume of the company increased and selling expenses varied according to the top sale, so the company had higher sale expenses on freight charge and transportation charge.

Shareholder : Ready-made products met a loss, why still profit in consolidated financial statements?

Company : Owing loss value on ready-made products is little while frozen products get very high profit, therefore consolidated financial statements then had the operation result in profit.

Shareholder: Temporary investment capital is higher. What investment made by the company by using this money?

- Company : The higher of temporary investment capital is to take for depositing as fixed account. The company does not take that money for any investment.
- Shareholder : Wish to know the reason of paying dividend as share and good-bad points of paying share dividend.
- Company : The company has a policy in paying dividend regularly. The profit of 2008 increased moderate from 2007 which enable to pay more dividend. In 2007 the company paid dividend 0.30baht/share. So in 2008, Board of Company resolved to pay dividend same as 2007 and paid as share dividend to the part of shareholder. Good-bad points of paying share dividend is to make the company still having cash for circulating and to pay share dividend makes more buying-selling shares in the Securities and Stock Exchange, incurs more liquidity and the shareholders can be able to deal in the Securities and Stock Exchange.
- Shareholder : The company should manage for slide and should add products picture in the annual report.
- Company : The company takes into consideration.
- Shareholder : The company has the factory in Chiangmai and export by ship as main. Is it possible to export by air another choice.
- Company : Products of the company are mass products, having not much worth, not suitable to send by air freight because it will make the products too expensive and customers can not accept.
- Shareholder : Maximum capacity of the machine is 27,000 metric tons, the company can do 25,000 metric tons. Is there any plan to extend the capacity in the future to serve for the growth in the next 5-10 years and increased production volume, how the company plans to expand the market?
- Company : It is under consideration but from the economy problem of USA caused impact toward the economy all over the world, so the company suspends the project for the time being. To obtain Investment Promotion can be done in 2 features namely: extend more capacity or the other way is to move the production to the new project which would make the company obtain tax right 30% in the same way.
- Shareholder : Planting areas of the company cover 14 provinces of northern region. Any guide line to enlarge the planting area to other regions?
- Company : The company has done so which this moment has enlarged the planting area down to the under northern region but as the company products must maintain freshness and with the transportation distant from the planting source to the factory at Chiangmai too far, the company then is in capable to plant in very far away area. But if the company solve the problem by installing the factory near-by Bangkok, then there will be the problem of high wages follow due to nearer to Bangkok, more higher on wages. Therefore, installing the factory in Northern Region is still suitable both in temperature and proper season for planting.
- Shareholder : Risk factor on farmers. Is it possible the farmers turn to plant with others?
- Company : There are some but however, the company is a first producer and has a portion in this business to 70%. The company must try to maintain this portion by means of reliance, long relationship with each others through to be the register company in the Securities and Stock Exchange and use the measure to induce many parts such as to take the group representative to go for sight-seeing and etc.

Shareholder : In 2009 the company expects for exportable 25,000 metric tons and estimates that the operation result would moderate lower than 2008 and problem of weather condition which would impact directly on yield. How's the company solve the problem?

Company : As the world weather condition changed made yield some lower but the company has not obtained much impact. However, as from the world economy problem this moment, the company puts export target at 25,000 metric tons which is the target in the way of conservative.
